Greek PM promises Jewish leaders a law against Holocaust denial

Prime Minister Antonis Samaras said the proposed legislation would bar parties that denied crimes against humanity, such as the Holocaust-denying Golden Dawn, from running in future for the Greek parliament.

By Anshel Pfeffer | 18.04.13 | 10

The full text is available for subscribers & registered users. Click here to subscribe ($1 for the first 4 weeks) or register (free access for 10 stories a month) or login.

HAARETZ SELECT

Francis: A socially conscious, politically passive pope?

Cardinal Bergoglio, now Pope Francis, who kissed the feet of AIDS patients and whose trademark is humility and simplicity, could have an important social impact on the Church, even if his conservatism will disappoint the Catholic world's liberals

By Karma Ben Johanan | Opinion

Divestment movement gaining ground on California campuses

By Dina Kraft | Jewish World Features

Who won Israel's coalition talks?

By Chaim Levinson | National

'This American chutzpah makes my blood boil,' Begin said

By Ofer Adar | Diplomacy & Defense

On Root / In search of breadcrumbs, oxygen and pickles

All three things come from the same root, but we only have to eradicate one from our homes on Passover.

By Jeremy Benstein | On Root
What About an Israeli Law Against Nakba Denial?
By Dovlov | 17 Mar 2013 | 09:43 PM

freedom of speech is paramount, holocaust denial god's denial all included.
By Dovlov | 17 Mar 2013 | 08:40 PM

It is true - any animal can deny anything in Israel or in the US. It is an European problem. European
By Dovlov | 17 Mar 2013 | 10:22 PM

this is the wrong way to combat these lunatics
By commonsense | 17 Mar 2013 | 07:45 PM

no jewish lobby exist they say?
By Dovlov | 17 Mar 2013 | 07:07 PM

Who say ???
By Dovlov | 17 Mar 2013 | 07:07 PM

slavery
By Dovlov | 16 Mar 2013 | 05:20 AM

Jonathan Pollard is no Prisoner of Zion
By Barbara Opal-Rome | Opinion | 17 Mar 2013

Egypt's very thin blue line
By Zvi Bar'el | Features

How foreign donors reshaped Israel: A who's who
By Shuki Sadot | Business

JEWISH WORLD NEWS

Greek PM promises Jewish leaders a law against Holocaust denial
By Anshel Pfeffer | 05:24 PM | 16 Mar 2013

Barbara Streisand to make debut Israel performance at Peres celebration
By haaretz | 11:47 PM | 16 Mar 2013

Thousands march in Greek city to mark Jewish WWII deportations
By Anshel Pfeffer | 10:44 PM | 16 Mar 2013

Man sentenced for NYC synagogue bomb plot
By The Associated Press | 03:56 AM | 16 Mar 2013

FACEBOOK

Recent Activity

RECOMMENDATIONS

Facebook social plugin
The Jewish World edition of Haaretz.com and Haaretz Newspaper offers extensive coverage of Jewish life in Israel and the Diaspora, Jerusalem, Sephardic and Ashkenazi Jews, European Jewry, British Jewry, French Jewry, American Jewry, synagogues, Jewish museums, Kashrut, kosher food, Reform, Orthodox and Conservative communities, the Holocaust, Jewish conversion, circumcision, marriage and intermarriage.